1 you need to do." And simply, you know, most of, most of
2 the goal dates were just very unrealistic based on the
3 fact that I was still trying to work a full-time
4 schedule.

5 Q. Okay. And so --

6 A. Another way of saying it is I was not given
7 less duties to explore, and being given more duties on 8 the project manager side. My duties, my normal duties
9 were not lessened, but my additional duties with trying 10 to even do anything with the project manager was still,
11 therefore, an expectation, which, of course, just could
12 not happen.

13 Q. Got it. And these goals that are listed in 14 this document that I've provided to you as Deposition
15 Exhibit Number 1, I don't know if you ever had a chance
16 to look through them.

17 A. Not past the first page.

18 Q. Take a look at them. And I'll tell you my 19 question as you go through it is that were these goals
20 that are identified and listed in this document
21 associated with your transition or possible transition
22 to project manager or were these things that you were 23 expected to do as an implementation specialist or 24 neither.

25 A. I would say they would probably be, some of

Page 36

1 them would be my normal duties but on a lesser role.

2 Q. Okay. All right. Let's maybe take a few
3 examples. And I'm looking at the first page here. With
4 respect to documentation, it lists a goal of creating a
5 business license or multiple business license agendas.
6 Do you see where I'm reading?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. Is that, is creation of business license
9 agendas something that you did as an implementation
10 specialist?

11 A. Basically all that was is just taking the 12 training manual and just dividing up. Again, because of 13 this project management course that all the project
14 managers had gone through, it was kind of calling
15 something, which it had always been one way, just a
16 different name. In other words, obviously as trainers,
17 we always had to train, you know, Page 1 through 4 on 18 Day 1, Page 5 through 6, you know. We would always 19 break it up. Simply that was no more than doing the 20 same thing following the manual and saying how you're 21 breaking it up among the days but making it sound,
22 making it adapt to what the project manager is asking
23 where it kind of gets fancier names.

24 Q. Okay. So do you understand the term business
25 license agenda to be the schedule of training on the

1 business license, on the business license module?

2 A. Yeah. Basically going through the manual and
3 just, you know, which topic are you covering today and
4 which one are you covering tomorrow.

5 Q. And would that be something you would do as an
6 implementation specialist?

7 A. Ask the question again. I'm not sure I
8 understand what you're asking.

9 Q. Okay. Right. The creation of a business
10 license agenda, as I understand your testimony, meant
11 simply --

12 A. Which pages are you covering today and which 13 ones are you covering tomorrow.

14 Q. Right. Let me articulate, if you would. It
15 means establishing the schedule for the training on 16 business licenses in the sense of determining which 17 parts of the program you would train on at particular
18 times?

19 A. I would say among, of that week.

20 Q. Okay. And is that something that you did as 21 an implementation specialist?

22 A. On a normal basis, no. Because a lot of 23 agendas were kind of set out for us already.

24 Q. By the project manager?

25 A. Yes.

(205) 397-2397 BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA 35209 877-373-3660

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

Page 38

1 Q. And then I understand that what she's asking
2 you to do in kind of this transition phase is to start
3 assuming that responsibility; i.e., you would develop
4 the agendas as opposed to the project managers? Is that
5 your understanding?

6 A. I believe that's probably a fair statement.

7 Q. Okay. And did you during this transition
8 period ever take on that responsibility of creating the 9 business license agenda?

10 A. Not, not, not in that aspect where we're 11 scheduling out the days and, in that aspect of 12 scheduling what we're going to cover for those days.

13 Q. Okay. Did you do it in some other aspect?

14 A. No.

15 Q. Okay.

16 A. Other than, again, other than following the 17 preordained agendas that were given to us.

18 Q. And those were preordained by the project
19 manager?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. So then by that, I take it it's a correct
22 statement that you as an implementation specialist never 23 created a business license agenda?

24 A. Not from scratch. I believe we have used
25 other ones to adapt to that particular client by putting

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

Page 39

1 their name on it and basically, but it was not, it was
2 not generated from scratch by me.

3 Q. Right. But you were just changing the names
4 of a particular client to meet a form?

5 A. More or less, yes.

6 Q. What you're saying you didn't necessarily do
7 is develop the schedule and put it in a document?

8 A. Correct.

9 Q. Did you ever have to deviate from the agendas
10 as an implementation specialist?

11 A. Not a whole lot. If we ran out of time, it
12 would simply roll over to the next day.

13 Q. What would cause you to run out of time?

14 A. Them asking a lot of questions.

15 Q. When you did that, did you have to advise your 16 project manager, or what did you do to change the 17 schedule?

18 A. Yes. We would usually have to advise the 19 project manager we're just not having enough time for 20 these days. And so then they would either have to book
21 more days or reschedule out future visits.

22 Q. And how would you know to advise the project
23 manager of that? Because they just weren't getting done
24 with the module, because they were asking so many 25 questions or that they weren't getting it?

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

Page 40

1 A. How would I know what?

2 Q. Well, you said at some time you would have to
3 contact the project manager and say they're going to 4 have to book more time for the training because, I take
5 it because they're not picking it up quickly enough?

6 A. That would be in our trip reports.

7 Q. Okay. But am I right that what would cause
8 you to put that in a trip report and say they need to 9 book more training would be their inability to grasp the 10 training in the time allotted?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. And the time allotted was something that had 13 been part of the preordained agenda?

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. What about, what's a conversion crosswalk?

16 A. Basically saying okay. This is what it was in 17 their database. This is what it is in the new database.

18 Q. Does that suggest a document? And let me help
19 you. In the first bullet, she's suggesting that you
20 develop a generic conversion document for business
21 license.

22 A. Well, what she's alluding to based on Ray
23 Arbour's tax conversion document -- I'm just reading
24 here -- Ray Arbour's tax conversion document, his tax
25 conversion documented what fields should map to what

Page 50

1 change. You did a generic agenda. Fine. Use the
2 generic agenda, but now customize it where, you know,
3 you're simply putting the client's name and a few other
4 things that, you know, make it look more specific to 5 that client.

6 Q. How were you advised of these customized
7 changes that were to be made to the agenda?

8 A. Through the project manager.

9 Q. Just orally?

10 A. Or a document E-mailed to us.

11 Q. What document or E-mail are you thinking of?

12 A. Like the agenda form to use. I believe that 13 was another form that was changed and handed to us of 14 how it should look.

15 Q. But then you were to customize that agenda
16 form to address the particular client?

17 A. Just plugging in the generic agenda into that 18 form.

19 Q. Look at the next page. It talks about
20 business license conversion documentation, and it
21 references a Hartford site report. What is a site
22 report?

23 A. That would be a report that we were always 24 required at the end of our session to report to our 25 project manager of how things went.

Page 51

1 Q. Is that the same as a trip report?

2 A. Not exactly the same.

3 Q. What's different?

4 A. The trip report documents your hours and
5 billable. And basically think of it this way.
6 Accounting cares what the trip report says. The site
7 report is what the project manager cares about. So the 8 site report would simply be who you met with, what 9 client, what got covered, what didn't get covered, any 10 concerns, any problems. Again, it was a report that was 11 more formally done I would say after the whole project
12 management training and stuff.

13 Q. Okay. And she's saying you included more
14 detailed conversion specifications. Correct? It's the 15 second sentence.

16 A. Yeah. I think she was just looking for more
17 detail.

18 Q. What does conversion specification mean?

19 A. It's simply saying what, looking at the 20 conversion and what might be incorrect about it.

21 Q. Did you do the actual conversion?

22 A. Be specific on that.

23 Q. I understand conversion to mean a process by 24 which the customer's data from its previous system is 25 transferred or moved on to Tyler's system.

1 A. Uh-huh.

2 Q. That I understand involves some type of
3 programming component.

4 A. Right. I did not do any programming.

5 Q. What part of the conversion did you perform?

6 A. Well, typically we would look at it and note
7 any errors when it came up in MUNIS to see where it
8 might be inconsistent.

9 Q. And when she talks about detailed conversion
10 specifications, is that what she's referencing, as you
11 understand it, the notification of errors and the 12 comparison?

13 A. I believe that's what she's alluding to.

14 Q. And it looks like she is transitioning a
15 little bit here in ii where she says, "Using this
16 report, create generic crosswalk/report that can be used
17 by other implementation staff."

18 A. I believe that's where she's referring back to 19 the previous page where, where you're referring to Ray
20 Arbour's tax conversion document.

21 Q. All right. And you told me you at some point
22 during your employment did that?

23 A. Uh-huh.

24 Q. Is that a yes?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. Okay. Let's move to the third page of the 2 document where it looks like the final section of the
3 document relates to goals for February through April.

4 A. Uh-huh.

5 Q. Is that a yes?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And did you discuss these roles with Ms. Hain?

8 A. Discussed or read this report.

9 Q. Okay. And she's copying Bob Sansone and --
10 this is the person that I mentioned earlier -- Shawn
11 Gaudreau. Who is that?

12 A. In the last transition, that would have been 13 her, that would have been her boss.

14 Q. Ginger Hain's boss?

15 A. Yes. Who worked out of the Falmouth office.

16 Q. Is that Falmouth, Maine?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. And Mr. Sansone was the human resources person
19 out of Falmouth?

20 A. That's correct.

21 Q. Okay. She is providing you with different
22 goals it looks like in this last section. And then let 23 me go through each one of them. The first one is 24 project status reports where she's saying "Provide 25 monthly summary to manager for each project assigned."

7 A. Correct.

8 Q. And I take it you would have been assigned to 9 cover that client?

10 A. Correct.

11 Q. That assignment would have come from your 12 project manager?

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. And were you, was this an existing customer of 15 Tyler in the sense that they had other modules
16 purchased, or was this a particular --

17 A. I believe they had other modules.

18 Q. Was that important for your role?

19 A. No. Not really.

20 Q. Okay. So the first time you visited
21 Tuscaloosa -- we're talking about the City of

23 A. Uh-huh.

24 Q. Is that a yes?

1 Q. Would you have done anything in preparation

3 A. You mean for them or on my own?

4 Q. Either.

5 A. Such as?

6 Q. I mean such as reviewing a documentation that 7 some other employee may have prepared or --

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Discussing their processes or talking with a
10 customer.

11 A. Very typical prior to arriving at a project,
12 there would have been somebody else that would have done
13 some analysis that I would go over so I would at least
14 be familiar with what I was looking at when I got there.

15 Q. And what form would that analysis be in?

16 A. Usually paperwork.

17 Q. And would that typically be prepared by the 18 project manager?

19 A. Either the project manager or an analysis.
20 Somebody doing a specific analysis for the client.

21 Q. And when you say "a specific analysis," what
22 is it that was being analyzed?

23 A. Depending on what their needs are. If they
24 are more of a cookie-cutter client or a unique
25 situation.

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

1           Q. And typically these clients would have had
2 some type of business licensing software already in

4           A. Correct. Of some form.

5           Q. Okay. So you would typically review this 6 paperwork. Would you have talked to anyone at the 7 client?

8           A. Not prior to my visit.

9           Q. So would there, for a business license
10 software, would there be a particular person that you
11 would coordinate with upon your arrival?

12          A. Yes.

13          Q. And who would that be?

14          A. I don't recall. It would have been the 15 manager of that division.

16          Q. What division?

17          A. Of basically who handles the business
18 licenses.

19          Q. Okay. And would you have a meeting with that 20 person?

21          A. Usually not independently. Usually they would
22 act as a project manager. So I would meet with them
23 some of the time, but then others of the time I would 24 just directly be dealing with their staff since their 25 staff is the one that does that.

4           Q.     Okay. So business licenses was pretty much

6           A.     I can't recall specifically. But I would

8           Q.     Generally.

9           A.     -- probably within twelve months of July of 12           say during the last two years of your employment.

13           A.     Definitely all I did.

14           Q.     Was business licenses?

15           A.     Yes.

16           Q.     Okay. You said during the last two years of 17           your employment that you focused on business licensing
18           and that it was more of a cookie-cutter module and that 19           I think I understood you to say that you would meet with

21           A.     Correct.

22           Q.     And you would train them?

1 talk about the year-long project -- and I know that was
2 an approximation -- at Tuscaloosa, and you have already
3 told us that you had to go there on multiple occasions.
4 I take it on each of these occasions you're providing
5 training to just different people?

6 A. It was pretty much the same core of users.

7 Q. Would you train them all at once?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. In like a classroom type setting?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. So on each trip, you would be training on a
12 different aspect of the module, or would it just be 13 refreshers?

14 A. Tuscaloosa was more of a unique situation in 15 the fact that development was writing a lot of code for 16 them. And so many of the training would be that they 17 wrote a new module that will do X, Y and Z. "Now,
18 Kevin, go to the site and train them on X, Y and Z."

19 Q. Was some of this training that you're talking
20 about in connection with Tuscaloosa, did that occur
21 after they had already gone live with the software?

22 A. No. Pretty much when a site goes live, within 23 a month or two, I'm out of there.

24 Q. Okay. So it wasn't unique in that sense?

25 A. No. No. It was unique in the fact that

1 development was writing a lot of new code for them.

2 Q. I see.

3 A. And so I would train them on that code after 4 it was developed.

5 Q. So what was somewhat unique about
6 Tuscaloosa --

7 A. That they had a lot of code that was specific
8 to them that I would train them on.

9 Q. Did that require you to -- sorry. Did the 10 fact that the code was being written or a lot of code
11 was being written for Tuscaloosa in connection with the 12 software result in the implementation lasting longer
13 than typical?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. So these trips to Tuscaloosa where you would 16 train the users would just be as new code was written?

17 A. Not exclusively. But that's why the project
18 dragged on for a long time.

19 Q. So when you were dispatched during, some point
20 during the year to Tuscaloosa to train, obviously or I
21 take it you were given the subject matter of the 22 training?

23 A. Uh-huh.

24 Q. Yes?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. And that came from the new code or some other
2 source?

3 A. It would usually come from the developer.

4 Q. And so your trips to Tuscaloosa were based on
5 when new code was developed?

6 A. A lot of the time it seemed that way.

7 Q. Okay. During the last two years of your
8 employment at Tyler when you were supporting the 9 business licensing module, did you have any role in 10 configuration of the software?

11 A. Only, I mean --

12 MS. BAGLEY: I'm going to object to the form.

13 I'm not sure I'm understanding what configuration
14 is.

15 MR. MCKEEBY: I don't care if you're 16 understanding it. He has to.

17 THE WITNESS: Following the manual, we would
18 have to, you know, put in like their name, and, you
19 know, there would be some things to fill in as the 20 module was trained on. But that would, again, be 21 referenced back to how the developer coded it.

22 BY MR. MCKEEBY:

23 Q. What do you understand configuration to be?

24 A. Well, it depends on if you are a technical
25 person or a non-technical person asking, I guess.

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

Page 72

1 Q. Let's assume that it's the latter. I'm a
2 non-technical person.

3 A. Then configuration could be as simple as 4 putting in, you know, the client's name in their 5 software.

6 Q. Other implementers I'll tell you have used the 7 term setting up parameters.

8 A. Yeah. That's probably a good way of 9 describing it.

10 Q. Did you do that type of work?

11 A. Right.

12 Q. Okay.

13 A. The setting up -- let's clarify parameters.
14 You know, setting up their names, setting up the initial 15 software based on what the parameters call for that.

16 Q. That's something you did?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. You didn't have any role in installing
19 software or hardware?

20 A. No. No.

21 Q. I got a double negative there. It is a true
22 statement that you did not have any role in installing
23 either hardware or software?

24 A. True, I did not install hardware or software.

25 Q. Thank you. You can use Tuscaloosa if you'd

1 like. But I'm really asking more of a generic question
2 here. The process of configuration in the non-technical 3 sense that we've discussed involving putting in the 4 information, is that something that typically occurred
5 like a set period of time while you're spending, you
6 know, half a day or some discrete period of time setting
7 up the software in a non-technical sense, or was that
8 kind of an ongoing --

9 A. No. Typically a very short period of time.

10 Q. Okay. Would you agree with me that -- let me
11 start over. When you were in business licensing for the 12 last two years of your employment, I want to at a very
13 high level break down --

14 A. Can I clarify your question? Again, I was in 15 business license more than two years.

16 Q. Okay. That's fine. I was just focusing on 17 that discrete period of time. But let's broaden it.
18 And if we need to change it, we can. But while you were
19 supporting the business license software, I want to kind
20 of break down what an implementation looked like with 21 respect to what you did.

22 A. Okay.

23 Q. And let me kind of list, first of all, some of 24 the duties that we've already discussed so we don't have
25 to rehash it. One of the things that you would do

1       typically in connection with an implementation of the
2       business license software would be to review materials
3       that either the project manager or someone else had 4       prepared?

5           A.    Correct.

6           Q.    And then you would perform -- and I say
7       "then." I should say and you would perform these 8       non-technical configuration steps that we've discussed
9       in terms of inputting parameters and general
10      information?

11          A.    Correct.

12          Q.    Would that be done before or after the 13      training, or would it depend?

14          A.    It would probably be part of it.

15          Q.    And then by training, based on in part your 16      previous testimony, I understand that to mean you're 17      teaching end users how to use software?

18          A.    Correct.

19          Q.    Okay. I think that's kind of -- you would 20      have to do a site report and a trip report?

21          A.    Correct. For my project manager.

22          Q.    Were you on the premises when the customer
23      went live with the business license software?

24          A.    Typically, yes.

25          Q.    And would you provide any post-live support to

Page 75

1 the customer after they went live?

2 A. Depending on the client. But typically I
3 would be there on the day they would go live and like
4 one or two days afterwards just to make sure there's no
5 bumps. And then usually after that point they're good.

6 Q. There wasn't any period of time in which you
7 were taking phone calls typically from the customer?

8 A. I would never take a phone call from a client.

9 Q. Okay. So by post-live support, you were there
10 a few days?

11 A. Just being on-site to hold their hand.

12 MS. BAGLEY: Let him finish asking the 13 question.

14 BY MR. MCKEEBY:

15 Q. And that would depend on what?

16 A. Their level of knowledge and whether they want
17 to pay for the billable time.

18 Q. Of you being there and assist them after the 19 go live process?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. And would that be something done under the 22 contract?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Would you have input in that in terms of 25 saying to the project manager, you know, "Hey, it might

1 be a good idea to have these folks pay for an extra day.

2 I think they need it?"

3 A. Not typically.

4 Q. Would that happen occasionally?

5 A. Only, I would only express a concern, and then
6 at that point, the project manager would call them and
7 say, "I think we need another day or two," yeah.

8 Q. Okay. So I've identified six, different
9 components of an implementation in the context of the 10 business licensing software module, review materials,
11 the configuration steps that we've talked about, the 12 training of the end users, the reports, the go live
13 assistance and the post-live support that occurred a day
14 or two after the customer went live. Are there any 15 other discrete job functions that you can identify that 16 occurred during the implementation process other than 17 those six that I've --

18 A. No. That's pretty much the typical.

19 Q. Okay.

20 MR. McKEEBY: Can we take a short break?

21 MS. BAGLEY: Uh-huh.

22 (A recess was held.)

23 BY MR. McKEEBY:

24 Q. Okay. Before we took a break, we broke down
25 the components of the implementation function in the

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

Page 77

1 business licensing module to six, different components.
2 And I understand there was some overlap I think based on
3 your previous testimony. For example, you said that 4 configuration had sometimes overlapped with the 5 training. So I want to be fair to your previous 6 testimony. Would it be, I think I understood from your
7 previous testimony that the bulk of the time that you
8 spent while you were supporting the business licensing
9 module was in the actual training?

10 A. Correct.

11 Q. If we had to put a percentage on that, would
12 you say 80 percent?

13 A. I would say that's probably fair.

14 Q. Going back to your performance review where 15 you talk about the success with Tuscaloosa, what about
16 it, that particular project made it in your mind a
17 successful one?

18 A. They were a very difficult client. And I
19 believe I had alluded to it that three times they had 20 specifically requested that I be back at their site. So
21 they worked well with me. Though they were difficult
22 and a very particular client, that in itself was 23 noteworthy. The other thing is with that long of a
24 project, obviously it's, things can, you know, get out
25 of hand and get them upset. I mean, they had been upset

1 say on that travel day on Friday, if I had gotten back
2 home at say 5 o'clock, I would not get compensated for a
3 supper meal. If I got back at 7:30 -- in this case, I
4 did -- I am, I believe.

5 Q. You used the term compensated and I used it
6 too. But really you mean reimbursable expenses?

7 A. Per diem. It's a per diem.

8 Q. Okay.

9 A. So you would not trigger the per diem unless
10 you were out past a certain hour. So they always wanted
11 to document what time did you leave the house and what 12 time did you get back. If I left at 11 a.m. that
13 morning, I would get compensated for lunch. If I left
14 at 1 o'clock, I would not get compensated for lunch.

15 Q. Okay. There are no other Tyler documents that 16 we would need to look at to be able to more easily tell
17 your time?

18 A. No, sir. I would say that's probably the most 19 accurate time sheet of ours, if you will.

20 Q. In the expense reports?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. And you didn't keep any personal documents, a
23 calendar, a journal or anything like that where you
24 wrote down the number of hours that you worked?

25 A. No.

1 Q. Do you have any estimate of what the typical
2 hours that you worked in the work week would be?

3 A. I would say a very typical week where I was
4 traveling -- and that was very, very typical -- I would
5 say probably about 50 hours to 55.

6 Q. When you say it was typical that you would 7 travel, let's focus on the last two years of your
8 employment.

9 A. Sure.

10 Q. What percentage does that mean? How many 11 weeks in a year would you have been on the road?

12 A. I would say it's an anomaly to get a whole
13 week of WebEx. And that would happen maybe once every 14 month and a half to two months. So day in and day out
15 pretty consistent fly out, fly back. Again, a few rare
16 occasions where I would have some Florida clients where 17 I would drive there, and it would take three hours to 18 get there. Very atypical.

19 Q. That was atypical. Okay. And in terms of if 20 you weren't doing -- were there any weeks where you
21 weren't doing either WebEx training or traveling? You
22 were kind of doing paperwork at home?

23 A. Extremely rare and very frowned upon. So ...

24 Q. Frowned upon in the sense that, not that you
25 were doing something wrong, but because you didn't have

1 control of when you were meeting with clients?

2 A. You would think so. But we would still feel
3 the heat.

4 Q. How would you feel the heat?

5 A. "You need to get more billable days," even
6 though we weren't responsible for going out and booking
7 out those billable days.

8 Q. Who would give you those directives?

9 A. The project manager. But they in turn would 10 be getting the flak from their manager looking at 11 billable days.

12 Q. What would they tell you to do? I mean, to 13 get more billable days, what direction would you be --

14 A. They wouldn't. It wouldn't be, it wouldn't be 15 a solution based direction. It wouldn't be like, "You
16 need more billable days. So, therefore, do this." It 17 was more of a, "You've only got ten days. We've got to 18 get you a couple of more."

19 Q. Somewhat of a collaborative?

20 A. Kind of. Even though there was nothing that 21 we would do for it.

22 Q. Are you employed currently?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Where do you work?

25 A. I'm self-employed.

1       negotiate a higher salary?

2           A. I negotiated a higher salary.

3           Q. With whom did you have those negotiations?

4           A. Bob Sansone.

5           Q. Was that done over the telephone?

6           A. Yes.

7           Q. And you also understood that you would be
8 eligible for the travel and expertise premiums?

9           A. Yes.

10          Q. You got those during your employment at Tyler?

11          A. Yes.

12          Q. And would it be fair to say that you
13 understood when you accepted the offer of employment
14 that you knew that it was a salaried position?

15          A. I understood that there was a variety of 16 compensation methods.

17          Q. Right. You understood you wouldn't be paid
18 overtime for the hours that you worked over 40?

19           MS. BAGLEY: Form.

20           THE WITNESS: I understood that there was a
21 base salary with additional.

22 BY MR. MCKEEBY:

1                   THE WITNESS: I'm not sure that was
2                   specifically discussed.

3                   BY MR. MCKEEBY:

4                   Q. Okay. I didn't ask if it was discussed. I
5                   asked if it was your understanding. And you knew when 6                   you started employment that when you worked over 40
7                   hours you weren't going to get paid time and a half for 8                   that; correct?

9                   MS. BAGLEY: Form.

10                  THE WITNESS: It was not, it was not
11                  understood necessarily that there would be working 12                  a great deal over 40 hours I would say would be 13                  more so the assumption. The other thing, I guess
14                  to elaborate on that, when I was hired, I was also
15                  working out of the Maine office with the majority
16                  of the travel being local day trips.

17                  BY MR. MCKEEBY:

18                  Q. So during the initial period of time, you
19                  weren't working overtime?

20                  A. No. What I'm saying I was basically, it was 21                  pretty close to the number of hours because the travel
22                  would be maybe one hour away.

23                  Q. So you were working 40 hours a week, then?

24                  A. Closer.

25                  Q. And when did that change, if it did? I'm

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

Page 110

1 going to assume that it did.

2 A. I would say probably for the first one year
3 of, maybe year and a half of my employment it was pretty
4 much mostly day travel. Again, when I say "day travel,"
5 I mean go to a client that is a half an hour away and
6 drive home at night. So I would get home at, you know,
7 maybe 6 o'clock.

8 Q. So during that first year and a half, you were 9 working roughly 40 hours a week?

10 A. I'd say real close, yeah. I mean, not 11 exactly. You know, maybe 45. But very close to that.

12 Q. Did you ever in your employment with Tyler
13 raise the issue of not receiving overtime?

14 A. We had raised the issue as far as traveling so
15 much. But it was kind of passed down to us. This would 16 be later when I was living down here. And all the 17 travel was flight and stuff like that. I had raised it
18 before to my manager as far as, you know, if I'm working
19 on Sunday or if I have to be at the site on Monday, I
20 have to leave on Sunday. And basically the response
21 was, "It's up to you on where you want to live. If it
22 takes you leaving on Sunday to get there on Monday,
23 so be it."

24 Q. Who were those discussions with?

25 A. I believe I had, I'm pretty sure I had had

FREEDOM COURT REPORTING

Page 111

1 that conversation with Ginger.

2 Q. Anyone else?

3 A. Possibly the former manager.

4 Q. Is that the one that you still can't name?

5 A. If I saw the name, I'd remember it.

6 Q. But that's who you meant?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. Do you understand that the allegation in this
9 lawsuit is that you were misclassified as an overtime
10 exempt employee?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. Did you have that understanding while you were 13 employed at Tyler Technologies?

14 A. Did I have which understanding?

15 MS. BAGLEY: Object to form.

16 BY MR. MCKEEBY:

17 Q. Did you have an understanding while you were 18 employed at Tyler Technologies that you should been 19 classified as a non-exempt employee?

20 A. I didn't understand the difference on that.

21 Q. Okay. So from that -- your complaints that 22 you made or the issues that you raised with Ginger and 23 the other didn't involve, "Hey, I'm a non-exempt
24 employee. You should pay me overtime?"

25 A. That is correct.
